FRESH FROM THE PRESS

Spring time has officially sprung in NE1 and as I approach the end of my first month here, I too am beginning to flourish in my new role. Enamoured by what our city has to offer, I’ve so much to look forward to this spring!

Firstly, Mother’s Day is a great time for us to celebrate the amazing women in our lives - whoever they may be! Whether that female figure is a foodie, a film-buff or a floristry fan, there’s plenty of city delights to ensure only the best for your very special someone.

As we say hello to April, we also welcome back our peaceful pop-up park, Grey Street Gathering. Funded by our Geordie Jackpot players, our green haven is back to brighten your morning, noon and night. The spot will be a staple in the city until October, giving us plenty of opportunity to enjoy the blissful retreat on one of NE1’s most iconic streets!

With plenty in store to keep a spring in your step, there really is no excuse not to get involved in what our cracking city is serving up this season!

GEORGIA HADWIN
INTERN
Sprint has sprung in NE1 and the city’s cultural goings-on are popping up like daffodils on our Grey Street Gathering. We’ve got another issue packed with fun stuff for the whole family, as well as last minute Mother’s Day plans, green-eating hangouts and more! If that’s not enough, our pop-up garden, Grey Street Gathering, is back up and running - a tranquil retreat to rest your legs in the city centre, paid for by generous Geordie Jackpot players! It’s all about enjoying the great outdoors in this issue - but for those cooler evenings, we’ve also got plenty up our sleeves - including a review of the new Beeronomy on Hooch Street. Pick up a copy, have a read and enjoy our city this spring!

NEVER A DULL MOMENT
BIG THINGS FOR THE BIGG MARKET
The Bigg Market’s newly-refurbished public realm is now complete! The builders are off-site and the area is open to the public, with an exciting series of events scheduled for the spring/summer season ahead. The transformation doesn’t stop there though! Building work on the former gentleman’s WC building has started, readying it to be handed over to private owners. As part of NE1’s National Lottery Heritage Fund regeneration project, this historic part of the city will be restored to its former glory, with the Victorian toilet buildings being completely refurbished - with a state-of-the-art glass structure taking centre stage. The building is being renovated for commercial use with new tenants fitting out the interior as an exciting café/wine bar concept. Having delivered new street lighting, additional trees, street furniture and new four-level terraced areas for events and markets in the area with National Lottery Heritage Funding, the NE1 Bigg Market development team are excited for what’s next in the project. Watch this space!

INSPIRING IMAGES
We’ve got something exciting news for culture vultures of the North East! Abject Gallery on Market Street is bringing a brand new exhibition to its creative space. Peter McArdle’s body of work explores the relationship between fine art traditions - the nude, the landscape, sculpture and the history of painting - and reconsiders each in the context of the new digital image that now dominates visual culture. His works question what happens when images are taken out of their contexts and find themselves in new cultural and political spaces? The preview for this inspiring showcase takes place on Friday 19th April, 6pm - 9pm, and the exhibition will continue from 20th April until 1st June 2019. There will also be a special late opening as part of The Late Shows 2019 on 18th May, 7pm - 11pm.

POP IN FOR A POWER LUNCH
Our chums at Union Rooms are helping professionals power through the day with a brand new (and totally irresistible) lunch offer! Round up your office buddies and make your way to this Westgate Road newbie for their Power Lunch deal - offering a mouthwatering meal deal you simply cannot miss out on. So, what’s on the menu? Dirty fries, battered goujons and vegan pizza are just three of the featured dishes, priced at just £6.50 each. If a good old sandwich is your lunch break fix of choice, you can choose from a range of fillings in either a wrap or brioche bun - including a brekkie club special (all your morning favourites in a bun), or a pig pimpin’ (pulled pork perfection)! Sounds delicious, right? Make a date with your work friends and power up your lunch in NE1!

A ROYAL REFURBISHMENT
The wait is over! Nelson Street’s popular Café Royal is back up and running - with a fancy new makeover, including the welcome addition of a refreshed, modern interior and a mouthwatering new menu. Best-loved for its delicious offering of scones, cakes, patisseries and scrummy savoury dishes, it’s the perfect place to check in for a bit of spring supper with loved ones. Working closely with North East interior designer, Abercrombies, the restaurant now features warm natural hues, solid wood tables and a truly relaxing dining space to sip, eat and enjoy! Foodies can look forward to new dishes including: Super Greens Eggs Benedict, Vietnamese Chilli Ginger Marinated Steak Sandwich and BBQ Jackfruit, as well as a selection of good-for-you smoothies and juices! sjf.co.uk/our-pubs/cafe-royal

WHAT A LINE-UP!
If May wasn’t already looking mega when it comes to the music scene in NE1... Johnny Marr and Lewis Capaldi have just confirmed gigs at Newcastle’s This Is Tomorrow Festival on Saturday 25th and Sunday 26th May 2019! This must-attend May bank holiday weekend festival will take place in Exhibition Park, with other headline acts including the Stereophonics, Foals, Noel Gallagher’s High Flying Birds and The Vaccines. The festival is an absolute must for music-lovers of the North East! thisistomorrow.co.uk

EUROPEAN RUGBY FINALS 2019
Rugby is coming to the home of the Magpies this May and it’s a must on your summer sporting calendar! St James’ Park will be the centrepiece of Europe’s festival of world-class club rugby on Friday 10 and Saturday 11 May 2019. The Challenge Cup final will take place on Friday 10th, with the blue-ribbon Heineken Champions Cup decider scheduled at the home of the Toon on Saturday 11th. It’s the greatest weekend in club rugby and it’s coming to our city. Don’t miss it this May! newcastle2019.com

THE LATE SHOWS RETURN TO THE TOON!
The city’s annual culture crawl returns this May - bringing heaps of free, late-night art, crafts, designs and interactive events to venues across NE1! Set up by Tyne & Wear Archives and Museums (TWAM), The Late Shows, taking place on 17th and 18th May 2019, features open art studios, music, performance, food, galleries, museums and a host of intriguing events you won’t want to miss! Staging cultural activities across 60 venues, it’s a great opportunity to mooch through the city’s museums after dark - checking out iconic exhibitions including the Natural History Museum’s Dippy at the Great North Museum, medieval entertainment at Newcastle’s Castle Keep and Vic Reeves’ exhibition at The Biscuit Factory. Smaller culture vultures won’t miss out on the fun this year, with the addition of Twi-Lates - from 4pm - 7pm, targeted at 12-17 year olds. Venues include Dance City, the Alphabetti Theatre and Seven Stories. thelateshows.org.uk
NEWCASTLE LITERARY SALON
Join the Newcastle Literary Salon this Wednesday for a night of spoken word, followed by open mic. Presented by Juli Watson, this inspiring evening will also include special guests, Jan Noble and Daniel James. Don’t miss out on the opportunity to get to grips with lit in NE1! The event will take place at Bar Loco, Leazes Park Road. facebook.com/newcastleliterarysalon

THE CAT IN THE HAT
Based on the much-loved book by Dr Seuss that has captivated generations of readers, The Cat in the Hat arrives at Northern Stage, bringing feline frivolity aplenty! Featuring the riotous rhymes which have delighted children for over 50 years, infectious humour and spectacular circus for the grown-ups, it follows Sally and her brother who, after being rescued from a dull, rainy day by the Cat himself, find themselves on a whimsical adventure. It’s a purrfect treat for all the family - don’t miss it! northernstage.co.uk

BENJAMIN FRANCIS LEFTWICH PLUS SUPPORT FROM ROSIE CARNEY
Benjamin Francis Leftwich arrives at Wylam Brewery as part of his 2019 UK and Ireland tour. It follows the release of Gratitude, the first piece of material to be taken from his third album, which will be released early next year. The top tune sees Leftwich bring more electronic elements into play, along with darker, intricately layered production and yet more raw, emotional lyrics. wylambrewery.co.uk

MORE ON MONDAY
Last year, we were delighted to cut the ribbon at our newest pop-up park, Grey Street Gathering. The arrival of this glorious garden in the centre of town meant we could host outdoor fitness classes, workshops and provide a tranquil new space for people to relax and rest their legs when in Newcastle.

Grey Street Gathering is the first city centre project paid for by the Geordie Jackpot and will take pride of place on Grey Street once again until October 2019.

This cool new space screams fun in the sun and also provides an away-from-it-all retreat in one of the city’s busiest, most beautiful streets; equipped with large planters, special seating areas and exercise sessions such as yoga. What is so great about Grey Street Gathering is it’s love of all things local. Bringing together local designers, builders and project managers, we’re certain this pocket park will, once again, steal the hearts of the people of the city!

The pop-up park is the perfect excuse to get excited about the sunny season in Newcastle! Whether you swing by on your lunch break, rest your legs mid-shopping trip, or meet your yogi chums for an exercise class, it’s a cool new hub for the people of NE1 and beyond to enjoy.

To play the Geordie Jackpot and to continue contributing to city centre projects, as well as being in with the chance of winning fab cash prizes and raising funds for local charity, Cash for Kids, you can buy tickets at: geordiejackpot.co.uk. Stay tuned online for more information and upcoming activities at Grey Street Gathering. getintonewcastle.co.uk
TUESDAY TREATS

DUPed

Newcastle’s Live Theatre brings DUPed to the stage as we step into April, a play which illustrates the impact and legacy of Reverend Paisley and his Democratic Unionist Party on those who oppose religious and social conservatism. This eye-opening performance written by John McCann, is a powerful production that will not disappoint, with a five star rating from the Edinburgh Festival Magazine. A must for culture vultures of the North East!

GET INTO NEWCASTLE // 16
“The versatility of beer knows no culinary bounds,” is the restaurant’s ethos - and boy is it right. Who knew beer and bavette were a match made in heaven? Who’d have thought a stout would bring out the best in your sticky toffee pudding? Whether you’re a craft-beer geek, a real ale aficionado, or you’re new to hops and hand-pulls, we’re certain you’ll leave this place partial to a bit of palate-pleasing pint-pairing. Whether it’s a mid-week munch or a post-work pint, Beeronomy perfectly blurs the lines between a beer with friends and a full-blown feast. What’s not to love?

The place is big, bright and airy - and screams craft brewery coolness. Think high ceilings, stripped-back woodwork, metallic decor, refined rows of hand-pulls and a bold array of bottles on show. A tasty bottle of Timmerman’s cherry whets the palate as we browse the bustling menu - which, it’s worth noting, very kindly suggests the perfect pint to go with each dish. We kick things off with the masala-spiced scotch egg (£6.75) and the wild mushroom on toast (£6.50), for our veggie chum. The scotch egg is everything it should be and more - a perfectly crisp coating on the outside, with the bright orange yolk of the egg oozing inside. Sitting on a bed of spiced dahl, it’s a great hearty starter to get things started - with a kick of spice for good measure. The wild mushroom on toast is a vibrant veggie option - topped with lemon thyme, charred onions and nasturtiums.

The main event brings beer, bavette and beetroot to the table. The soy marinated bavette steak (served pink on this occasion) is a great buy at £13.50, packing in plenty of fire and flavour with black garlic, miso béarnaise and the tastiest triple cooked chips we’ve had! All of this, washed down with a dark lager. The roasted celeriac (£9.95) is a mouthwatering meat-free option to say the least. A cleverly-arranged plate of colourful goodness, topped with pickled shiitake mushrooms, lentils, goat’s curd and beetroot.

This green-eating plate of gorgeousness is perfectly paired with an IPA. The beer matching fun doesn’t stop at mains. And it’d be rude not to try the dessert offering! We satisfy our sweet tooth with a sent-from-heaven sticky toffee pud (£5.75) - served with a good scoop of Madagascan bourbon vanilla ice cream. A small mouthful of stout is the perfect companion, leaving us feeling full, content and experts in the field of food and beer pairing. Our dinner date finishes on a fruity high with a cherry and almond Bakewell tart (£5.95), served with a super sweet fruit beer.

Food and drink comes hand in hand, and at Beeronomy it’s as much about the food as it is the beer. It’s a place where you can kick back with a pint, but also enjoy a plate of the good stuff. Make sure you check it out - it’s the perfect match for the people of NE1!

The funny-man first hit the comedy circuit in 2013 and has risen through the ranks faster than most. thestand.co.uk
POSTCARD FROM... Cannes

‘Freshly back from a whirlwind visit to MIPIM, the world’s leading property conference with over 26,000 of the leading property and investment professionals, and I’m really excited about team Newcastle and our impact on the event. This year Invest Newcastle took over 30 local partners and more than 60 delegates to Cannes, continuing Newcastle’s growth year on year at this prestigious event. It wasn’t just Newcastle though, both Gateshead and Durham Councils took part, and launched exciting schemes to an international audience, and we’re thrilled to see the region on the world-stage and selling itself. As well as some amazing presentations and great connections made, the highlights from this year’s event for me were the World Wheel company launch (which was hugely well received, and inundated with interest), and Gateshead’s complimentary plans for the Baltic Quarter. It’s a really exciting time for both the city and the wider region, and I think that’s reflected in the amount of interest in the area. It’s essential that we continue to grow the city and the region’s economy by putting ourselves out there, at events such as this, and continue to sell this wonderful city to a wide audience on an international level. Here’s to next year, and who knows what amazing strides we’ll have made in NE1 between now and then!’

LEGENDS LIVE FEATURING SUZI QUATRO, DAVID ESSEX, LES MCKEOWN’S BAY CITY ROLLERS AND SMOKIE
Following the success of last year’s Legends Live concerts, Tony Denton Promotions has announced a brand new tour for 2019. The show will bring together a host of iconic names in music, including 70s pop icon, David Essex, legendary rock band, Smokie, and more - under one roof to perform a selection of their greatest hits. Grab your tickets, indulge in the nostalgia and dance your socks off! utilitaarena.co.uk

JANET
This uplifting, coming-of-age story celebrates the life of an ordinary woman, played by a lump of dough, who dreams of a life beyond her wildest dreams. Told by objects and injected with plenty of dark comedy, it’s been nominated for Best Theatre Production at the Buxton Fringe and has won the John Beecher Memorial Award for most original, challenging work with high production values. A real winner for lovers of alternative comedy and food! Add it to your April do-this calendar! alphabettitheatre.co.uk

THE GIRL ON THE TRAIN
29 APRIL - 4 MAY
Adapted from Paula Hawkins’ novel - an international phenomenon selling over 20 million copies worldwide - and starring Samantha Womack, best known for playing Ronnie Mitchell in EastEnders, this gripping new take on The Girl on the Train will keep you on your toes and guessing until the final moment. The show follows Rachel Watson, who’s only escape from her day-to-day life is to watch a seemingly-perfect couple through her train window every day. But when she learns that the woman has suddenly disappeared, she finds herself as a witness and a suspect in a thrilling mystery. Totally gripping - don’t miss it! theatreroyal.co.uk

EASTER SUNDAY SPECIAL WITH THE MAGNIFICENT JAZZY JEFF
21 APRIL
You may know Jazzy Jeff as Will Smith’s hapless sidekick from the hit American 90s sitcom, The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air, but the music world knows him as one of the best DJs to have ever graced the planet. And now, the turntable champ arrives at Wylam Brewery for a night of soul, motown, disco and old-school R&B jams, mixing the smooth sounds of big-time names like Marvin Gaye and Al Green, with Beyoncé and Michael Jackson. A unique opportunity to see this world-renowned DJ in action! wylambrewery.co.uk

NATIONAL THEATRE LIVE: ALL ABOUT EVE
APRIL 11
Lifting the curtain on a world of jealousy and ambition, this new production of All About Eve, broadcast live to Tyneside Cinema from the Noël Coward Theatre in London’s West End, asks why our fascination with celebrity, youth and identity never seems to get old. From one of the world’s most innovative theatre directors, Ivo van Hove, this gripping tale about two actresses, one with a legendary past and one with a bright future, in search of the spotlight, will have you on the edge of your seat from start to finish.
